

British values at Grange Park

What do I mean by
'Being British'?

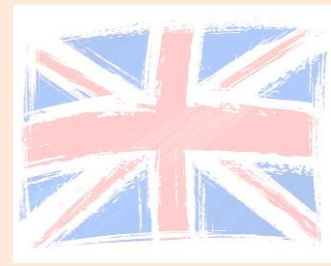

Let's play a game of 'Put your hand up if.....'

Put your hand up if.....

- You have brown hair
- Wear glasses
- Have a brother or sister
- Like football
- Can speak another language
- You like swimming in the sea!
- Know what you want to be when you're older

All these things help make up your identity

So what else makes up your personal identity?

- Groups or clubs that you belong to - scouts, rugby, choir....
- What your interests or talents are - film, dance, speed stacking....
- What things are important to you.
- What your hopes are for the future.
- Which people are important to you.
- Your religion
- The languages that you speak.

What you value also makes up part of who you are.

Time for another game - Let's play 'Thumbs up, Thumbs down'

I'm going to show you some words on the board - if you think it is important to you, then give me a thumbs up - if not, it's thumbs down.

We have talked about personal values, but can a country have values?

We all live in Britain, what do you think
British values are?

British values

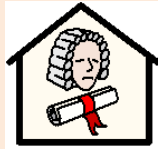

• Democracy

• Mutual respect

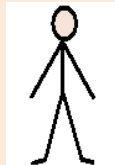

• The rule of law

• Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs

• Individual liberty

- Democracy

Britain is a democracy - this means that the people in Britain vote for the people who make the laws and decide how the country is run. If we didn't have a democracy, just one person might be able to make all the laws and that would not be fair.

An example at school:
Our student council

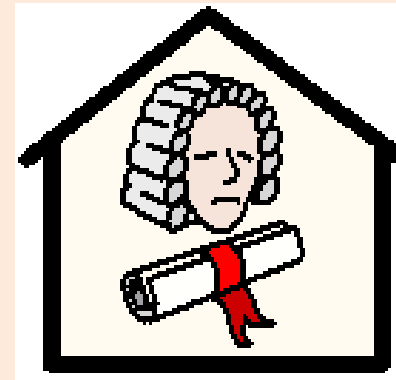

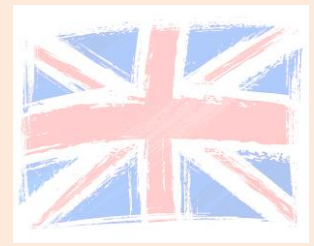

- The rule of the law

In Britain we have a police force who make sure people do not do the wrong thing and break the law - this means that we are safe.

An example at school:

Our school rules

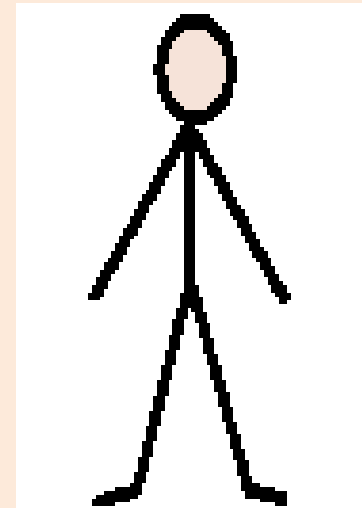

- Individual Liberty

In Britain, as long as we do not break the law, we can live as we choose to and have our own opinions about things.

An example at school:

Respectable and mature opinions
in class discussions/debates

- Mutual Respect

We might not always agree with other people, but we try to show respect for their thoughts and feelings.

An example at school:
Around school with our Friends and staff

- Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs

In Britain we accept that other people might have different beliefs than ours and they may believe in different religions.

An example at school:

Learning about a range of religions in RS and respecting our peers.

Looking at that list of British Values

- Democracy
- The rule of law
- Individual liberty
- Mutual respect
- Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs

Think about how lucky we are to live in Britain, a country with such strong values.
