

Twin Seal Pups

In a part of Britain at Norfolk. Two seal pups named R2-D2 & C-3PO have been born last year but were recorded on camera last year in the whole world.

The seals were abandoned by their own mother so the scientists will take care of them.

But the scientists tested their blood that they are twins. The experts have never said they were unlikely to survive in the wild for them two. But last year, 800 seals were born in Norfolk when 60,000 people visited Horsey Gap.

The twin seal pups were believed to be born in the east of Europe. Which couldn't find any information about them both.
